WOMEN'S VIEW MEDICAL GROUP offers comprehensive and holistic wellness care to all our patients. We offer safe, natural treatments where possible, and reserve drug and surgical treatments for serious cases or where nutritional, exercise and natural therapies have not prove successful or adequate.

For our women patients who are at midlife, and dealing with the issue of hormone imbalance we offer regular, informative seminars on midlife and menopause. The many choices and the many controversies surrounding menopause and hormone balancing are often confusing. We hope to inform and educate our patients, and to work with them to help them to make the best choice for their particular situation. We offer special services such as recommending and prescribing human-identical natural hormones from a special custom compounding pharmacy.

We are also able to offer our patients saliva hormone testing to assist them in monitoring and achieving good hormone balance. The test kits must be ordered for you by a physician, and can test one or more hormone levels for you. The cost and list of tests available is listed below. A few insurances may cover this new testing, and you may submit your bill to your insurance. We are unable to do this for you, but will provide you with the necessary medical coding info.

For our patients who have family history and/or concerns about their risk for breast cancer, new studies have shown that there are good estrogens, and bad estrogens. Estrogen is metabolized and excreted, and a simple urine test can detect your ratio of good to bad estrogens. This new testing is available through our office, (though it is not yet covered by most insurance plans). Also, there are helpful phytonutrients in supplement form that can help you reduce the percent of bad estrogens that increase the risk of developing breast cancer. We recommend testing the good vs. bad estrogen ratio, then starting on the supplements and doing a follow-up test in 3-6 months.
